Class Begins

Seniors, Jim Lord, Tony Frigo, and Steve Walsh show who are kings of the school.

Senior Liz Cleavall asks, "Are we tardy, Jen?"

Michelle Renaud anticipates her first day as a senior.

Here we are: The class of Nineteen Ninety-Two. The year is complete, now we yearn for something new.

Kellie Ciavola uses her friendly neighborhood computer.

Senior Rochelle Newbert listens to an in-class discussion.

Senior Joe Paschetto laughs as the computer tells him a joke.

Seniors Kim Gamadre and Greg Gallagher confer about math.

Student Council President, Rebecca Ohlin warmly welcomes the new year and anticipates an interesting senior year.

We have grown within this building, with every hope, dream and fear.
And we've gained the will to succeed and the strength to persevere.

Seniors foresee great expectations at opening day assembly.

Senior Tony Frigo keeps it poppin'

Seniors Elizabeth Seeley and Beth Sullivan say, "Hi Mom!"

Seniors Maggie Ferrante and Jessica Brady await opening day assembly.

Seniors Jody Lekberg and Bruce Turpie - an orthodontist's pride and joy.

Now we look for the future to see what lies ahead
But we'll never forget the gray and the red.

Seniors Karen Desilets and Stacey Werbiskis are excited about the long weekend as they leave on a Friday afternoon.

Seniors Pete Hammarstrom & Craig Forester check out the latest in a cafe study.

"Way!" yells senior Jon Paul Houser to friend Brian Davis as they boogie down.

We're the class of '92, whom no one will surpass. And we will always remember that we have that Seniors Lisa Themistos and Chris Webber share happy times.

Senior Heather Savides leads the crowd.

Seniors Ben Craft and Michelle Wilson hang out in the band room.

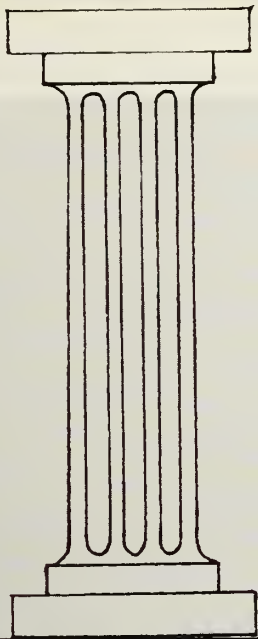

Jason Berselli and R.J. Fois stand guard.

Senior Rob Feathler crams for the big exam.

Senior Dave Walker stands out from the crowd.

.... Touch Of Class.

Head of the Class

DEDICATION

Mrs. Burke enjoys participating in after-school activities, including chaperoning the Halloween Dance.

Some may picture her as simply a fun, exciting history teacher, while others may see her as a compassionate and dedicated Key Club adviser. A lucky few have had the opportunity to see her true charm in Washington, D.C. on Project Close-up. But no matter how one knows her, one thing is for certain, Mrs. Burke is a super person.

What makes her so special? Approaching everything she does with energy, enthusiasm, and a smiling face, she turns ordinary lectures into creative and humorous tales (as those who have survived A P Modern European know!). She goes out of her way to prepare students for tests, even if it means coming back to school, at night, to conduct a study session. It is very important to her that the whole class fully understands the material. She is amazingly fair and uncommonly optimistic, always giving positive re-enforcement, even if a student has just failed a test.

Her involvement, however, does not end in the classroom. She has been the backbone of our Key Club for years, continually volunteering her time and effort to better the community in any way she can. She even goes one step further by bringing a small group of students to Washington D.C. each February. Here these teenagers have the opportunity to really get to know her wonderful personality.

Since Mrs. Burke gives so much of herself to the school, it is only natural that we want to give a little something in return. With much affection, we, the class of 1992, dedicate the Aegis to Mrs. Marilyn Burke.

Students shuffle into the auditorium on the first day of school.

Students William Long, Carrie Heal and Jeremy Giard discover a new species.

Juniors Mike Spring and Dave Ayers arrive early for school.

Junior Carly Domash is overjoyed about her first day of being an upperclassman.

Freshman Julie Gentile is not thrilled at the prospect of 179 more days of "bussing it".

Underclass

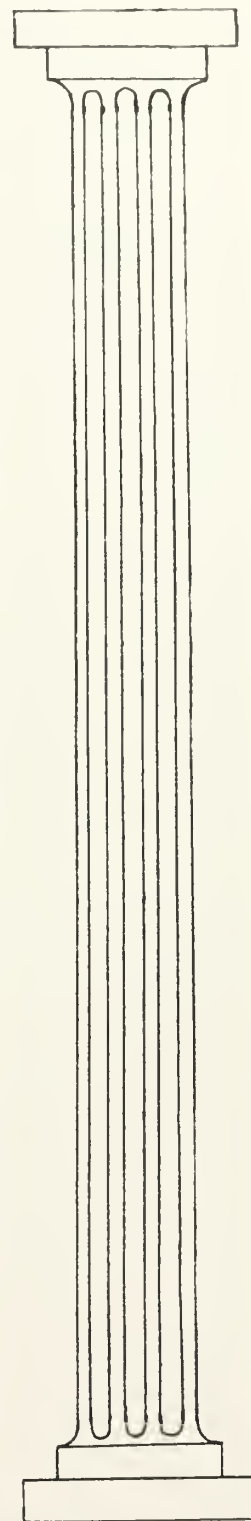

Sophomores Dave LeDuc and Doug Knowe. "Yes, we have our thinking caps on."

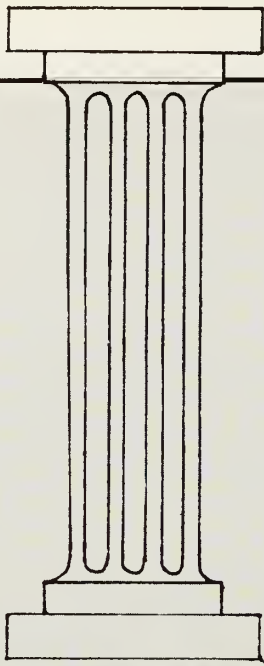

Junior Margarita Rosa finds a quiet corner to do homework.

Freshman Jaime Stebbins. "Psst, wake up!"

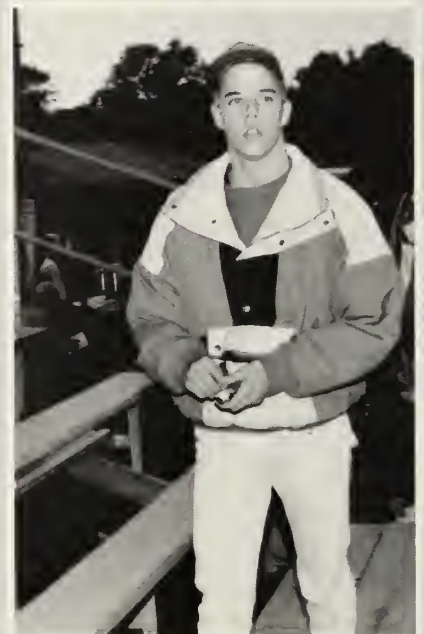

4th Class FRESHMEN

This year's freshman class, the largest in ELHS, was led by a dedicated group of people whose spirit was an obvious indication that they will make the most out of their high school career. Even though they are the youngest, these individuals displayed tremendous enthusiasm in participating in school-oriented activities. They are outgoing and not easily intimidated, which is very admirable, and it is evident that they will be successful in the years that lie ahead.

Keith Ingulli seriously pounds away.

Steve Zepke nonchalantly watches as a goal is scored.

3rd Class SOPHOMORES

To say the least, the class of 1994 is hard-working and dedicated. The spirited variety of individuals always finds a way to unite and contribute to their class. Their activities and fund - raisers, including a major Christmas candy sale, have been a wonderful success. This energetic, fun-loving class has reached their half-way mark, and is sure to make their remaining two years memorable.

2nd Class JUNIORS

Walking into school on the first day was frightening for most juniors! Once the homeroom bell rang, the challenging and stressful junior year began. This year was difficult because colleges look at a student's profile very seriously. With all the academic pressure, after school activities and clubs, jobs, getting licenses, grades and PSAT'S to think about, many juniors felt frenzied, frustrated, and stressed out. But now, as the year comes to a close, a lot of stress can be forgotten. The most important thing now as junior year ends, is that the class of "1993" stick together through good and bad times. To the new leaders, make the next year your best one, aim high, and "truly be all you can be."

Class Officers

"Many people don't realize the happy and stressful moments of being a class officer. The hard work and dedication from each and every member of the class helps. To the class of 1993, there's one year left; let's make it the best! PARTICIPATE!"

-Lisa Meccia

Stephanie St. Jock (secretary), Annie Keinath (member at large), Lisa Meccia (president), Joanna Brega (treasurer), Dan Reid (vice president).

"One thing I like about this class is the way in which we all seem to cooperate and work together. Everyone is aware of everybody else's needs and does whatever they can to help the class. We all admire and help each other. Though we may go our separate ways out of school, in school, we all stay together as one and strive for the benefit of the class."

-Mike McKenna

back row: Lisa Veratti (secretary), Allyson Salier (vice president), Jenni Cunningham (treasurer), front row: Michael McKenna (president), Marc Maccari (member at large).

"The freshman class is very promising. Everyone is willing to do things for the class. They are also a friendly group of people. I am proud to be president of such a great class."

-Jaime Silansky
President of the Class of 1995

Laura Williams (secretary), Jaime Salanski (president), Lynn Gamache (vice president), Richard Roberts (treasurer), Dan Paquette (member at large).

"Congratulations! Today is your day. You're off to Great Places! You're off and away! You have brains in your head. You have feet in your shoes. You can steer yourself any direction you choose. You're on your own. And you know what you know. And YOU are the guy who'll decide where to go. You won't lag behind, because you'll have the speed. You'll pass the whole gang and you'll soon take the lead. Wherever you fly, you'll be best of the best. Wherever you go, you will top all the rest. And will you succeed? Yes! You will, indeed! (98 and $\frac{3}{4}$ percent guaranteed.)"

Together again!
Ken hard at work.

The classy ladies and gentlemen, who are advised by Mr. Cooley and Mrs. Fleming, are an experienced team. They have been leading the Class of 1992 since sophomore year. Their hard work and diligence was shown by devoting countless hours preparing and organizing fundraisers. They would do anything to see their class treasury increase. They led this class through car washes, selling food, magazines, wrapping paper, candy bars, Hershey kisses and even Bic pens. They proudly served the Class of 1992, a class by itself.

"Being the president wasn't always a bed of roses, but I don't regret it. I was proud to represent this class and thank them for giving me the opportunity to serve as their president. I cannot imagine what my high school life would have been like if I had not had this offer."

LENDING A HELPING HAND

KEY CLUB The noble members of the Key Club devote their efforts to those in need. Led by Ms. Burke, club members have been involved in celebrity bagging at the Big Y, the ever popular Powder Puff Football, and feeding the homeless at Loaves and Fishes. A highlight of this past year was the presentation of a generous check to the Shriner's Hospital in Springfield.

Key Club

Over 14% of the school's population is represented in this picture. A combination of all four grades, headed by co-presidents junior Devonna Amiss and senior Stacey Werbiskis, this dedicated group meets weekly in the school conference room.

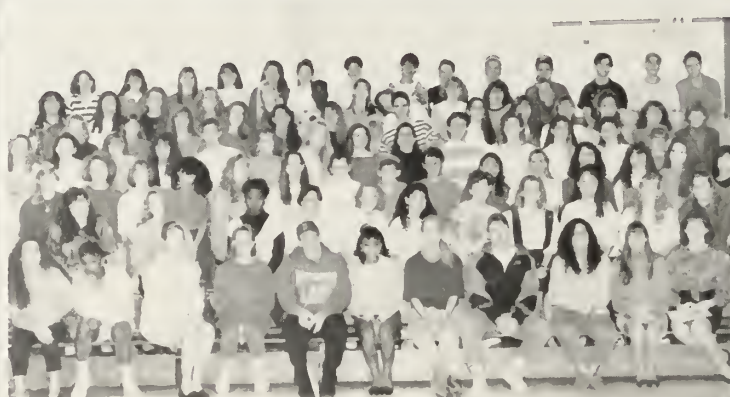

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY The National Honor Society, a nationwide organization, consists of students who have met the standards for induction. Members are proposed on the basis of their academic excellence and reviewed by the faculty. The National Honor Society, advised by Ms. Herschuck, gives to the community through the Heart Drive.

COPE Every March an annual event at ELHS, occurs. The Cope Classic, a volleyball tournament, attracts students from all four classes. Ms. Czajkowski, faculty advisor, oversees students through a day of competition. In addition, members develop presentations for elementary age students regarding substance abuse.

Dan Brennan prepares plates of cookies baked by Key Club members for the faculty members, during the holiday season.

Senior Bryan Pitts calls another potential donor in the Heart-a-thon.

Members of COPE meet at a peer educators home for a training session.

ENTERTAINMENT AT ITS BEST

Members of the chorus perform at the Winter Concert.

CHORUS Coached by Ms. Nimetz, the chorus participates in several concerts throughout the year, while also visiting nursing homes. Singers try out for district chorus, but even though not everyone gets in, they still enjoy what they do, and that is sing as best they can.

DRAMA CLUB After two seasons of inactivity, the Drama Club has set its sights on a spring production, Noel Coward's tribute to the acting profession, Waiting in the Wings, a light comedy set in a retirement home for actresses.

Chorus second row: Molly Harris, Heather Hawn, Kelly Bose, Andy McGrath first row: Kim Marchant, Cathy Henry, Holly Hawn.

HOMEROOM REPS Two representatives from each homeroom and senior class officers meet every Thursday. They are responsible for the success of the Ziti Dinner, Class Picnic, the prom and banquet. Often seen in their homerooms urging their classmates to get involved, these energetic seniors help to make the Class of '92 the best it can be.

SAC The Student Advisory Committee members are selected by the student body. Their job is to keep the students aware of what is discussed at school committee meetings. If a student has a question, he or she can ask SAC to bring it up to the school committee allowing for communication between the administration and pupils.

Freshman Katie Brunelle carries in a contribution to the food drive.

WORKING TOGETHER

Liz Cleavall, Mr. Freccero and Sarah Walas share a joke that wasn't on the agenda.

Senior Kimberly Oliveri gives assistance to fifth grade students at Mapleshade School.

Sophomore Amy Impagnatiello files the attendance in the main office.

OFFICE AIDES Directed by Mrs. Fitzgerald, the office aides perform clerical duties such as checking in tardies, sorting mail, and distributing attendance. Students from all grades volunteer their study hall time on a weekly basis. These volunteers are a tremendous asset to our school.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA Under the guidance of Mr. Calabrese, the future teachers spend time at the elementary schools and Birchland Park Middle School. In the classroom they correct papers, review math and spelling lessons and assist with science labs.

PRINCIPAL'S COMMITTEE The Principal's Committee consists of juniors, seniors, and one sophomore. Members are selected on the basis of a written essay on the topic "What can you do as a member of the Principal's Committee?" The main purpose of this committee is to bring unity to our school's atmosphere through discussions with each other and Mr. Freccero.

EXPRESSING THEIR THOUGHTS

AS SCHOOL MATCH WITS This year's team, Matt Boone, Bryan Pitts, Paul Robison, and Bruce Turpie, defeated Mt. Everett Regional High School, celebrated a victory over Belchertown High, and narrowly lost to Suffield Academy in the last week of competition.

As School Match Wits second row: Mr. Carey, Shawn Lavelle, Dena Wright. first row: Bruce Turpie, Matt Boone, Bryan Pitts, Paul Robison.

MODEL CONGRESS In January, the ELHS Model Congress members met with over thirty other schools at American International College to present bills created by the schools. The EL bill attempted to reduce the destruction of the rain forest by imposing a tariff on the importance of rain forest timber.

DEBATE CLUB Under the guidance of advisers Mr. McKinney and Mr. Carey, club members researched the resolve that the federal government should significantly increase social services to homeless individuals in the United States.

Bruce Turpie, Bryan Pitts, and Matt Boone compete against Belchertown High School.

Jen Burns and Dara Berger prepare to leave for a Model Congress meet.

... AND WRITING.

Members of the newspaper staff gather around the table in preparation for the deadline.

When editor Jessica Turner talks, Beth Sullivan listens.

NEWSPAPER The proud Spartan Spectator, winner of countless first and second place journalism awards, continues its publishing power and dedication to delivering the news in and out of school. Captaining the crew is Mr. Kerson, who guides his team of reporters to go out, get the scoop, and fill the pages with informative articles.

LITERARY MAGAZINE If you see a poster demanding your art and writing, chances are it is for the Literary Magazine. The publication is not limited to poetry and stories, but is a forum for students to show off their artistic talents as well. Most students anticipate this fine book's publication.

Kubera, Miss Fay. first row: A. Auerswald, M. Fratar, A. Manning, J. Johnson, J. Brega, B. Turpie, S. Werbiskis, M. Athas, L. Cleavall.

MATH TEAM These mathletes, led by Mr. Porowski, board a bus and head to a different school once a month on a Tuesday afternoon. There they compete with other schools tackling math problems in the areas of geometry, trigonometry, algebra and basic math. After two hours of solving problems, they relax with cookies and juice and then head back to ELHS.

LATIN CLUB These students gather to discuss the language and culture of ancient Roman civilization. With Ms. Fay, as advisor, the club's annual Roman Banquet was a great success, as it enjoyed many more participants than expected. The Latin Club serves its main purpose - to prove that Latin is certainly not a "dead language" - it's alive and active in our school!

Joy Stacy, Sara Urban and Allison McKenna work diligently at the Science League meet.

Luke Demoracski ponders his next step in solving a mathematical equation.

Andrea Turpie checks the agenda for the Latin Club meeting.

Football

The 1991 football season was once again a season of ups and downs. The Spartan gridiron warriors finished the season with a record of 4-7 overall and 4-4 in league action. With the return of Coach Modzelewski, the Spartans got better acquainted with the thrill of victory. This year's leadership responsibilities were taken by co-captains Anthony Frigo and Ben Craft. The offensive attack was run by Bart Moylan at quarterback with Matt Bean, Mark Maccarini and James Brady at running backs. The wide receivers were Chris Chaisson and Anthony Frigo.

led by hard hitting line-backer Ben Craft and safety Anthony Frigo. With all the specialty positions back next year, the Spartan grid fans can look forward to more exciting seasons to come.

"We had a great group of seniors who led Spartan football to respectability - go scalded dogs!"

- Ben Craft

"Our attitude has improved over the past three years which led us to a successful season - commit to the bone!"

- Tony Frigo

BOYS' SOCCER

ELHS boys' varsity soccer team began this year with the hopes of another winning season. Although they were off to a good start and their spirits were high, the season did not turn out in their favor. Ending the season with a record of 4-9-3, the Spartans finished second in their division. The Spartans, were led by captains Chris LaBroad, Rich Obernesser and Johnny Coburn and coached by John Coburn. Since the team is young, they are looking forward to a bright future with many more wins.

"Although this year didn't turn out as well as expected, we still had fun - Thanks coach - we loved it!"

- Chris LaBroad

GIRLS' SOCCER

Although the 1991 Girls' Soccer team didn't end up with a winning season, all of the players worked hard and were enthusiastic right until the last day. The girls were led by seniors Allison McKenna and Jen Hallett, who unfortunately were plagued by injuries most of the season and also by the spirited junior captain Erin McKee. The girls had several night games this fall, which helped boost the morale of the team. Before these games, the players would meet at a designated house for a hearty dinner, which added to team unity. With only five seniors leaving, the Spartans look forward to returning next year with more experience and hopefully a better record ... maybe it won't rain as much next year either!

"The team showed great spirit and unity both on and off the field."

- Allison McKenna

Boys' Cross Country

With an unusually large number of runners, the future of Spartan Cross Country looks promising. This year, these long distance athletes got off to a quick start; with a record of 4-0 in their first 3 weeks, it seemed as though they were unstoppable. Yet, injuries and rundown caused their record to fall to 6-5, and as the season progressed, they were desperately in need of their second wind. With good depth and healthy runners, next year should be an improvement.

"The Cross Country team has the heart of gladiators. Through mud-bogging, pond swimming and disc playing we worked our way through those 15 mile practices and to a 6-5 record. It's been amazing, and for those who embark on this journey Good Luck."

- Jason Matulewicz

"The cross in Cross Country stands for crosstraining and it was surely the swimming, climbing, mud-bogging, and disc throwing that kept us sane! Life as a runner purifies the soul."

- Dan Kent

Senior Jon Paul Houser runs strongly 'til the end.

Girls' Cross Country

The 1991 Girls' Cross Country team had a respectable season this year ending with a 6-4 record. The girls lacked experience and depth, but they made up for it in their determination, spirit, and positive attitude that lasted throughout the season. Sarah Baker, the lone senior on the team, received the MVP award and made it all the way to the state meet this fall. With only one member of the team leaving, the team should prove once again to have a fun and rewarding season.

"We had a pretty good season this year due to a great group of girls and a lot of spirit." - Sarah Baker

FIELD HOCKEY

The E.L. Field Hockey Team struggled through a long, enduring, and frustrating 1991 season. The team worked hard and tried their best, but couldn't manage to get the ball in the net. All their hard work didn't pay off until finally in the last game of the season, Beth Sullivan scored a goal against Minnechaug. Although the season didn't prove to be totally successful, the team was closely knit and not only got along well on the field, but were also good friends off the field.

As for the Junior Varsity, they may not have had a winning season, but main tained their spirit through Secret Sisters. It looks as though there will be a lot of talent moving up to the Varsity next year.

Two awards were given to the Varsity team this year. Erica Mathison earned the MVP award and Rebecca Ohlin received the MIAA Sportsmanship award.

"Although this season was frustrating at times, we worked hard and got along well with each other."

- Erica Mathison

"Even though the season didn't turn out as we hoped, we never gave up and always worked hard."

- Nanette Loiselle

CHEERLEADING

Give me a S-P-I-R-I-T. What's it spell? SPIRIT! This one word best describes our high school's cheerleading squad. Supervised by Coach Heather Masters and commanded by captains Sarah Walas and Jen Maccarini, the peppy Spartan Cheerleaders screamed to their heart's content at the cold and blistery football games and maintained the crowds spirit and enthusiasm at the basketball games.

"The year started out shaky but with the hard work and dedication from our squad we've accomplished many of our goals."

- Sarah Walas

"Even though the squad is young, the determination and dedication was brought out during the season."

- Karey Reis

"We're lucky to have such a close squad and we are all very supportive of each other."

John Wiedersheim takes a jump shot.

Opening the season on a winning note, EL triumphed over Cathedral. After a few lapses, the team worked together to beat some worthy opponents. The Spartans were led by seniors Anthony Frigo and Paul Robison along with juniors Tom Veratti, John Wiedersheim, Doug Steele, Dave Bennis, and sophomores Doug Knowe, Mike Krol, and Shir Regenbaum. The team's winning attitude carried them into the tournament.

"After last year's season, we really turned it around and showed our opponents we were a force to be reckoned with."

- Anthony Frigo

"We really pulled together this year for some great wins that I will not soon forget."

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

Co-captain Jen Lelas confidently dribbles through opposing players.

"Jump ball - get it, get it!" echoed through the gym as EL's towering 5'7" center won the tap to start the game. With skill and determination the lady Spartans maneuver the ball down the court into the hoop for yet another two points. No matter what the score at the end of the game, the girls came out with a victory because of their competitiveness and inner strength. Captains Erin McKee and Jennifer Lelas pulled the team together despite the trials of a losing season. But, in the end, when each member looked back, she would remember one thing - "It's a sprint!"

"Our desire to compete made us rise to the occasion when it would have been easier to give up. Our efforts earned us respect and our character made us true champions."

WRESTLING

Determined Spartan wrestlers file into the gym.

With a full line up and nine returning wrestlers, the year started with high expectations including a big win over Amherst, and a strong showing at the Longmeadow Tournament. E.L. looked to win the division. However, halfway through the season, injuries hurt the team. At Western Mass., outstanding performances were turned in by Steve Bartolucci (8th place), Tom Miller (5th place), Rich Obernesser (3rd place), and Matt Bean who was a champion at 160.

"Although our record didn't show it, we had a much better season than last year. Good luck next year, guys."

- Joe Paschetto

"As a team we did not perform as expected. As individuals we excelled. Thanks, coach. I'm hungry . . . see you at McDonalds."

- Rich Obernesser

After Class

Students Unwind and Share Good Times With Friends . . .

There is so much more to life than school. Saturday night at Friendly's, a big sleepover party, or just hanging out at someone's house - these are some of the year's best memories. On the following pages, we will recapture the nostalgia and provide a taste of what happens after the bell rings.

It's a Friday night football game. Looks like everyone's here.

"We're no angels", say Seniors Beth Sullivan and Elizabeth Seeley as Beth reveals her devil in disguise.

Seniors Joe Paschetto and Rich Obernesser make their entrance.

Halloween, a holiday which brings out the flip side of our students, proved itself again. The Halloween dance attracted more than had been expected. DJ's Tony "Rocko" Frigo, Steve "The Wild One" Walsh and Tom "Totally Rad" Rosati sparked the atmosphere with hip sounds and catchy tunes.

In addition to the rockin' DJs, the groovy sounds of The Blanques lingered around the boogieing monsters. The band played for about an hour free of charge; their sole purpose being to bring new meaning to the words Halloween Dance.

As the dance progressed, the ghosts and gorillas, "women" and "men" literally danced the night away. The Student Council managed to raise more money than expected. The night ended with big smiles and tired students, but it turned out to be a surprising success.

SENIOR CLASS PICNIC

The final year of the Class of 1992 began with an explosion of good times and a strong sense of unity. A contributing factor was the senior class picnic. Held at Bluebird Acres, activities available were football, volleyball, and kickball. Hot dogs, hamburgers, chips, salads, and the bottomless cup of soda were scrumptious and plentiful. With a healthy attendance of about half the class, the picnic succeeded in bringing the seniors together and will go down as one special memory of the class of '92.

On a lazy Sunday in October, enthusiastic seniors make their way into Bluebird Acres for the class picnic.

POWDER PUFF FOOTBALL

The team waits for directions from their coach.

On a brisk November Saturday, the girls took to the gridiron while the guys rattled pom-poms and donned pleated skirts. The freshmen outwitted the sophomores by beating them in overtime with a strong drive to the end zone; the powerhouse seniors defeated the juniors in a grueling battle that was undecided until the final minutes; and in the championship game, the seniors dominated over the freshmen. True champions of the game were the Key Club members who donated a generous check to the Shriners Hospital.

Ziti Dinner

The ziti dinner was given b the 12th grade. The seniors worked hard, and money was made. The service was excellent and the food was great. With meatballs and ziti, no one was late!

Although it was strenuous, they still had fun. Once they saw dessert, dinner was done. The night was a success, with their stomachs content, but when clean up time came, they wondered where everyone went!

THANKSGIVING GAME & E.L.A.A.B.C.

At the Thanksgiving Day game, E.L. fans came to show their spirit and support. Enthusiastically the school band played and although it was a very cold November day, the band's music warmed the spirits of the frozen fans. Aside from the team's loss, the E.L. spectators still cheered them on vigorously and had a lot of fun doing it.

Members of the E.L. Booster Club plan for Meadow Muffin Day.

K.) This year ELHS used every last resort to offer the same educational opportunities it had in the past. Due to budget cuts, the East Longmeadow Athletic and Activity Booster Club was formed. Through alumni games, a pancake breakfast, a ziti dinner, and Meadow Muffin Day, they were able to cut the athletic and club fees in half. Thank you E.L.A.A.B.C.!

Mr. Mazzariello wishes that the raindrops would stop falling on his head!

T. G. I. F.

By Friday afternoon, students' spirits rise as they look forward to the weekend. The appeal of games, the mall, parties, sleepovers and being with friends is high on their weekend list.

TimeOUT

A semi-formal party is a special occasion for seniors during the holiday.

iors and seniors party together on the weekend.

Andrea Turpie, Margo Velonis, Dara Berger, Jen Burns, Sarah Beaulieu, and Carrie Conway forget about school pressures and relax.

Jon Letendre, John Accorsi, Mike Murray, and Adam Moses wait for their burgers and fries.

WORK AFTER CLASS

The bell rings, the doors fly open, and many students are off to work. Some students work more than twenty hours a week, and a few earn up to eight dollars an hour. Students state they have to have a job in order to buy the things they want. It was tough they said, but they managed to juggle a job with school.

Baked Desserts

Ready to take customer's orders at Boston Chicken are Rich Obernesser, Stacey Werbiskis, and Nanette Loiselle.

Jen Burns scoops ice cream at J.B.'s.

T.J. Soja's part time job is at B&B Market.

At Countryside Store Tom Miller makes change.

WHAT DO YOU LIKE ABOUT YOUR JOB?

- "The ladies that work up front."
- Chris Heal (Big Y Supermarket)
- "Good hours and all the donuts my friends want, I supply!"
- Karen Desilets (Donut Dip)
- "Flipping hamburgers is more fun than anyone can imagine!"
- Joe Paschetto (Friendly's)
- "The people I work with."
- Leandra Hyland (Friendly's)
- "I love to drive the Cushman."

EDITOR'S NOTE

When the year began, chaos was the word to describe yearbook meetings. With many new members and new advisers, the yearbook had to start from scratch. Piece by piece, the book was put together with new ideas and different creations. We slaved to make the book the best ever, and we think we have reached that goal. The changes were made for the better. We worked hard to make our yearbook and hope it is as special to you as it is to us. Take a look and cherish the memories.

"New ideas, creativity, and dedication were the keys to make Aegis 1992 one of the best yearbooks ELHS has had. I hope everyone likes the book as much as I do. It's different from previous books, but the changes were made to make it the best. And I think it will be remembered as a classic."

- Maggie Ferrante
Editor-In-Chief

"A lot of people didn't think we could produce a great book this year because of all the changes. I'd like to think we proved them wrong."

- Jody Lekberg

"I don't know how we did it, but somehow we did."

- Darcy Normand

"Even though we were pretty much disorganized in the beginning, we pulled ourselves together and produced a great yearbook!"

- Pat Gray

"In the beginning of the year, most people felt the yearbook would be really bad this year. However, with a lot of hard work from many people, a book which everyone can be proud of was produced."

- Chris Donohue

Good Luck,

Mom, Dad, Chris and Lisa

Liz,

Congratulations scooter! We're all proud and happy your high school years were so fulfilling. Ditto for college, Liz. I will especially miss you around school. Your future looks great. All Good Things,

Mom, Dad, Kate, Dan, Mandy and Tara

Albert,

There are no hopes of dreams dearer to parents than those they hold for their child.

There may be times when you'll be faced with choices . . . where maybe the right thing to do is not always the easiest. And that's when we pray you'll use your best judgment.

We know that whatever the future holds or whatever choices you must make, you will do the very best you can and meet them with love and courage.

We hold you and your happiness within our hearts each and every day. We are so proud of you.

Congratulations and Love,

Mom, Ralph, Joanne, Krisinda and Kristofor

Dear Rebecca,

Your school years at ELHS are over, and you can look back on all your experiences with happy memories. The people you have met and the friends you have met will be part of you always. We are very proud of you and know you will enjoy your future. Be yourself, be happy, and keep smiling.

Love,

Mom, Dad, Abbie, and Hannah

Congratulations Michelle. We are so proud of you. We wish you the very best that life has to offer. Your shining personality and cheerful spirit will always serve you well. We love you.

Mom and Dad

CONGRATULATIONS GRADS

Kathy:

WITH MANY THANKS TO . . .

We the editors would like to extend our gratitude to our hardworking staff by dedicating this page to them. So many have contributed to this yearbook and we appreciate all their efforts. Special thanks to:

In training, Jessica, Lisa, Erica, and Kim listen to Jostens representative Mr. Lendry on the proper way to make a page.

Michelle Wilson for her dedication and hard work as senior section editor and for her many hours of typing; Kimberly Oliveri for her many hours of typing and finding all the little mistakes; Erica Mathison for her dedication as a typist and fixing the nitty gritty; Darbie Driscoll for taking over the club section; Kate Ferrante as co-worker with Darbie; You both did a great job! Elizabeth Seeley for her hard work and creativity on the class ballots; Nikki Ghedini for all her creative ideas and caption; Amy

Manning for giving up her study halls and doing whatever needed to be done; Sarah Walas for acting as our reporter and getting quotes; Lisa Meccia for also reporting and getting quotes from students; Anthony Frigo for his dedication to the gym segment and writing copy; Stacey Werbiskis for her dedication in putting the job segment together; Beth Nadeau for giving up her study halls for yearbook; Lisa Themistos for her hard work in the job segment; Nanette Loiselle for her effort in the job segment; Jessica Brady for her participation in the faculty section; Jon Allegrezza for his artwork; Paul Sibley for his work in the business department of the yearbook by searching for ads; Greg Thompson for getting ads; Tom Rosati for giving up his x-blocks to sell yearbooks; Tracy Aitcheson for organizing the patrons; Liz Cleavall for writing many copies; Elina Zak for her contributions; Ms. Kokoszka and Mrs. Barnshaw for doing a great job as first year advisors.

THE YEAR WITHOUT GYM

Checking their pulses are seniors Carlo Tranghese, Steve Spring, Sean Duffy, and Jeff Curto.

Seniors get ready to warm up for x-block gym

Mark Langone shares his stretching tips with a friend.

Due to budget cuts, physical education for juniors and seniors was eliminated this year. Seniors fulfilled their gym requirements in one x-block by doing some simple stretches and a couple of laps around the gym.

Angela Coleman and Devonia Long wait for class to start.

HOW HAS SCHOOL BEEN WITHOUT GYM CLASS?

"I still have it!"
- Jason Fois

"It's boring sitting in class all the time."
- Mark Buckley

"I think it should have been optional."
- Lorin Hyland

"I don't miss having to change, but it was a tension reliever."
- Becky Rhodes

"It has its good and bad points. I miss it sometimes. I miss the lovely smell of the locker room most of all."
- Becca Ohlin

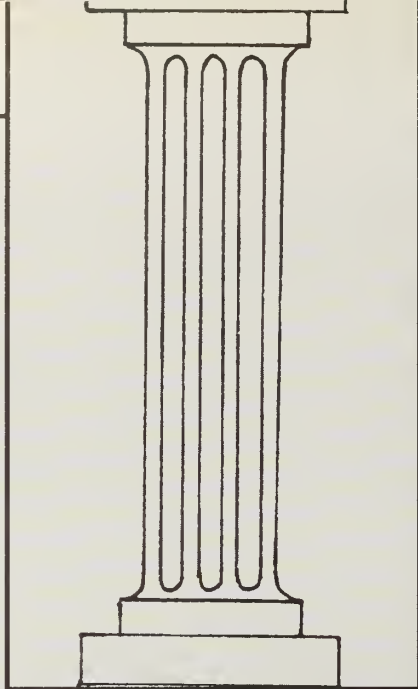

"I feel like we are being trapped in a chair, not being able to get our energy out."
- John Cardwell

CLASS DISMISSED

Jess Brady relaxes by blowing a bubble.

Dan Hanson gives thumbs up for Fazio's pizza.

Seniors Tom Rosati, Jim Lord, and Tom Miller want YOU!

Chris LaBroad and Beth Sullivan enjoy themselves at the class picnic.

Jenn Callahan smiles while studying for her last quiz at ELHS.

The year is completed and the last bell rings. We can only wait to see what the future will bring.

During X-block, Jason Hyjek relaxes.

Jason Matulewicz brainstorms new ideas for the next issue of the Literary Magazine.

Derrick Curtis waves farewell to ELHS.

The camera interrupts Rossi Giuggio as he reads the latest edition of the Spartan Spectator.

Tears and parting becoming a part of Commencement Day.
Smiles and laughter will hold us through the fray.

Deb Foard reacts to the upcoming soccer goal.

Karen Desilets and Sarah Baker wait for Mr. Bolles' directions.

Stopping at their lockers. Chris LaBroad and Tom Miller get materials for expository writing class.

Mark Speight signs out of homeroom during x-block.

The good times we've shared will be here to stay,
But now we move forward in our own unique way.

Chris Heal works on his latest assignment in the IBM lab.

Nansette Loïselle rushes through her last problem at a math meet.

Sue Pattenaude organizes during all school locker clean-out.

Kevin Racicot gets measured for his graduation cap and gown.

Whatever route we may choose, we will search for the best.
We will exceed the limit and will not settle for anything less.

Anticipating the first Senior Class Picnic, Allison McKenna and Erica Mathison smile.

Vegging out in AP Spanish, Paul Robison waits for class to start.

Stopping in the senior hall are Mike Murray and John Letendre.

Catching up on the gossip are senior friends Susie Pio and Christine Calvanese.

We will cherish and remember the moments that have passed.
And we the Class of 1992 will leave our own touch of class.
